BURNED AT THE STAKE.

Terrible Punishment of a Negro Murderer in Texas.

WITNESSED BY SEVEN THOUSAND.

A Most Brutal Crime Speedily Avenged
In a Most Brutal Manner—The Husband of the Victim Started the Fire Which Consumed His Body.

TYLER, Tex., Oct. 30.—At a point about four miles from Tyler a Mrs. Bell, who had been visiting her mother a short distance from home, was on her return met by a negro named Jim Hilliard. What occurred could only be told by the negro himself, and the evidence given by the dead body of the lady. The ground shows that she had struggled for her honor, and the condition of the body told of a cruelty that has only been equalled by "Black Ripper." After outraging the body the negro deliberately cut her throat and, then taking his knife, ripped up her body. A posse was quickly organized, led by Deputy Smith of Tyler, who, with lanterns in hand, and aided by a hound, tracked the negro to within four miles of Kilgore, where they found him fast asleep in a cotton pen. The negro was covered with blood, which he had attempted to wash off. The posse started back to Tyler with the negro, who offered no resistance.

Soon after the officers had him handcuffed a mob of some 200 men, heavily armed, arrived on the scene and demanded the immediate surrender of the prisoner, which was readily given. The mob then left for the scene of the murder, where they arrived in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. The crowd continued to gather at the scene of the horrible crime until nearly 2,000 citizens of Tyler and vicinity were there. A few moments before the fiend was brought to the place a meeting was held and a committee was appointed to investigate his identity. Witnesses were summoned and closely interrogated. The result was a thorough identification. When Hilliard arrived he was also brought before the committee. He made a full confession, in substance as follows:

Bound Over for Trial.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 30.—Edwin Bookmyer, a pension agent, and his son and daughter, Edwin H. and Ella, were given hearing before United States Commissioner Montgomery on charges of altering, changing and forging pension affidavits, and were bound over for trial in the United States district court. There are two charges against Bookmyer and his son and one against the daughter.

Bound Over for Trial.

MONTGOMERY, Oct. 30.—A large number of citizens congregated at the Baptist church here yesterday evening for the express purpose of praying for rain. Such a scarcity of water was never before known in this section. Nearly 200 tanks of water have been sold here during the past year. Stock is sufficient for winter and there are destroying fields of corn and houses in some sections of the country.

Liberal Party Split in Canada.

MONTREAL, Oct. 30.—There is a split in the Liberal party of Canada. Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, the Liberal leader of the opposition, has thrown over the advanced Liberal party which he was a member of him as well as his Quebec lieutenant, Hon. Mr. Marchand, provincial leader denouncing La Patrie, the Rouen organ. This means that the Liberals expect the aid of the Catholic church in the next general election, but how they expect to make even a half decent fight without the anti-clerical is a very perplexing riddle. Some people hold that the action is ill advised, and will result in Mr. Laurier losing all chance of the premiership which he ever had.

The French Cabinet Crisis.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Paris correspondent of The Times declares in a telegram to that paper that the cabinet would have fallen just the same had an interruption on the Madagascar campaign or any other question been the first on the list. "To a very person," he continues, "who aided the socialists to overthrow the ministry now regret their action. Some say that they did not understand that it was a question of confidence."

WOMAN SUFFRAGE DEFEATED. South Carolina's Constitutional Convention Shoves the Proposition.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 30.—The constitutional convention voted down the woman suffrage amendment by the decisive vote of 121 to 26. George D. Tillman made a great speech in advocacy of the idea, claiming that by enfranchising women with a property qualification the white people would carry the elections by fair and honest methods, and by no other way could they do it. He characterized the suffrage plan of Senator Tillman as a temporary, fraudulent makeshift, which would not endure.

Delegate Patton introduced a substitute suffrage plan basing the franchise upon military service, and giving Confederate and Union soldiers and their descendants the right to vote regardless of educational or property qualifications, while these qualifications would apply to other voters. A vote was not reached when the convention adjourned for the day.

An effort was made to give the legislature authority to give the women the suffrage if they at any time thought proper, but the proposition was killed by a vote of 103 to 49.

The Crash at the Durrant Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—The close of the arguments for the defense in the trial of Theodore Durrant yesterday was marked by the greatest crowd that ever fought for admission to a court room in this city. Judge, jurors, court officers and attorneys struggled for nearly an hour in a struggle through of men and women who crowded through the corridors leading to the court room. Ropes were stretched across the corridors, but they were brushed aside as easily as pieces of twine might have been. General Dickinson finished his argument for the defense at noon. Attorney Depprey's impaired physical condition was apparent in his argument, which was a disappointment to the large crowd who fought their way into the court room to hear him. He kept his seat throughout the argument. District Attorney Barnes began the closing argument for the prosecution this morning.

For the Crime of Being Rich.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 30.—William Thorpe, a wealthy railroad contractor, with offices at 45 Broadway, New York, recently purchased 1,400 acres of land in the lower end of Luzerne county. He erected a number of buildings, planted trees and built fences. The buildings have been destroyed by incendiaries, the trees torn up and the fences destroyed. It is alleged that some people living in the vicinity said after Mr. Thorpe had made his purchase that 1,400 acres of land were too much for one man to own.

Smuggling Conspiracy Unearthed.

BATFIELD, Wis., Oct. 30.—A smuggling conspiracy has been unearthed here, but owing to the fact that the guilty parties were in some way given a tip no arrests have been made as yet. Evidence has been secured, however, which implicates several well known people, and special revenue officers are at work on the case. Whisky and opium to the value of thousands of dollars, it is said, have been smuggled into Bayfield from Canada during the past year, and from here are shipped to other ports, mainly along the lake. This smuggling has been done by alleged fishermen, and the charge is now made that back of the scheme is a company composed of highly respectable merchants.

A Woman Frightened to Death.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 30.—Mrs. James Jackson, colored, was frightened to death Thursday night. A team of horses owned by Frederick Stiles of Newark ran away from the depot, dragging Charles Byram, the driver, who held to the reins. The sight threw the woman into convulsions, from which she never recovered, dying within a few minutes. Byram was probably fatally injured.

Economy in Government Stationery.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Controller of the Treasury Bowler has decided that congressmen-elect are not entitled to government stationery until they have taken the oath of office. Heretofore members-elect have been allowed to draw on their stationery allowance monthly.

Children Poisoned by Decayed Fruit.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30.—Marion Henderson, 6 years old, is dead, and Delta Maloy, the same age, will die from eating decayed fruit they picked up on the river bank.

NUGGETS OF NEWS.

HON. JAMES O. BROADHEAD, United States minister to Switzerland, will present to President Frey his letters of recall tomorrow.

The Lake Shore and New York Central roads contemplate putting on a flyer to run from New York to Chicago in twenty-four hours.

Peter Summers and Bill Renfrow, desperate moonshiners, were captured in the hills of the Ozark mountains and landed in jail at St. Louis.

Sol De Lissner, an actor in the play of "Captain Paul," was killed at the Bijou theater, Milwaukee, by the premature explosion of a bomb.

Secretary Carlisle left Washington for his home in Covington, Ky., yesterday afternoon. He will return after depositing his vote next Tuesday.

Lord Dunraven is to be presented with a silver model of Valkyrie III, twenty-two inches high, by British admirers.

General Campos, the Spanish commander in Cuba, has decided to suspend all offensive operations for the present, owing to the heavy rains and floods.

Mattie Warren, aged 10 years, and her brother Willis, both colored, were gored to death in a tunnel at St. Louis by a dirt machine. They were horribly mangled.

Lafe Atkins was shot to death by his brother-in-law, Virgil Staley, at Centerville, W. Va. Both were wealthy and lived in the same house. Staley has left the state.

E. D. Mills, of Mt. Morris, N. Y., and Charles D. Munroe of Wausau, will in a few days try to break the world record of five days and twenty hours between Chicago and New York, on a rail road in wheel.

HIS COUNSEL RECALLED.

Holmes Gives Up the Attempt to Conduct His Own Defense.

THE TAKING OF TESTIMONY BEGUN.

Forging a Chain of Evidence to Show That Pitezel Was Murdered—District Attorney Graham Believes the Trial Will Last a Month or More.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—At the opening of the Holmes trial yesterday District Attorney Graham announced that "the woman known as Miss Yohe and Mrs. Howard was sent for saw the prisoner, and had no opportunity for an interview with him." This is the woman who Holmes declared on Monday was his wife, charging that Mr. Graham had done all in his power to separate them. Holmes said that he had had only a three minute interview with the woman, and asked that it be renewed during the recess. His request was granted.

Delegate Patton introduced a substitute suffrage plan basing the franchise upon military service, and giving Confederate and Union soldiers and their descendants the right to vote regardless of educational or property qualifications, while these qualifications would apply to other voters. A vote was not reached when the convention adjourned for the day.

An effort was made to give the legislature authority to give the women the suffrage if they at any time thought proper, but the proposition was killed by a vote of 103 to 49.

The Crash at the Durrant Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—The close of the arguments for the defense in the trial of Theodore Durrant yesterday was marked by the greatest crowd that ever fought for admission to a court room in this city. Judge, jurors, court officers and attorneys struggled for nearly an hour in a struggle through of men and women who crowded through the corridors leading to the court room. Ropes were stretched across the corridors, but they were brushed aside as easily as pieces of twine might have been. General Dickinson finished his argument for the defense at noon. Attorney Depprey's impaired physical condition was apparent in his argument, which was a disappointment to the large crowd who fought their way into the court room to hear him. He kept his seat throughout the argument. District Attorney Barnes began the closing argument for the prosecution this morning.

"That is for me to say," said Mr. Graham. "Then the prisoner wanted to know whether, during the testimony of one witness, all the others should not be excluded from the court room. Judge Arnold answered that this would be done if the exigency arose."

Jeanne Pitezel, "Dusa," the 17-year-old daughter of the dead man, was the first witness called. She was called merely to identify several large crayon portraits of her father, which she did. Holmes asked her if they were good portraits of her father, and she answered in the affirmative.

Eugene Smith, who found Pitezel's body in the Callohill street house on Aug. 24, 1894, when he stopped there to see about some patent business. Mr. Shoemaker sharply cross examined Lampson on the question of his belief that the man whom he there saw was his whose picture is in evidence as that of Pitezel. Mr. Lampson was sure they were the same. A. T. Hubbard's testimony was in this line, too.

Mrs. Ada Alcorn, a physician, testified that Holmes had lived in her house on North Eleventh street, under the name of Howell, from Aug. 5 to Sept. 2, 1894. While there Pitezel called on him. John Grammer gave corroborative testimony, adding that Holmes brought Alice Pitezel to the house with him on his second visit.

Josiah W. Richmond had known Pitezel well, and had taken him to his sister's house to get board. Pitezel had told him that Perry was not his right name, and spoke of bringing his wife and children from the west.

John F. Hughes, a furniture salesman, had sold a bill of goods to Pitezel on Aug. 18, 1894. Holmes accompanied him. The furniture was sent to 1316 Callohill street. Walter W. Shadaker, real estate agent, rented the house to Pitezel on Aug. 18, 1894.

Adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning. District Attorney Graham remarked to-day that there was a likelihood of the trial outrivalling the Durrant case in point of time, but that if night sessions were held regularly it might be concluded within a month or less.

Latest Moves of the Prize Fighters.

HOT SPRINGS, Oct. 30.—Manager Joseph Vendig and Secretary Wheeler, of the Florida Athletic club, were arrested yesterday afternoon on warrants charging them with conspiring to commit a breach of the peace by aiding and abetting the Corbett and Fitzsimmons fight. Both were promptly released on bond. This is but another shrewd move to head off the attorney general, who was preparing to have them arrested upon a similar charge and carried to Little Rock for trial. If Fitzsimmons succeeds in getting here there will be a "trial," unless the governor should run in a squad of militia, which is not probable. Corbett has already been arrested by local authorities, and is at his training quarters hard at work, being "guarded" by a deputy sheriff. Fitz left San Antonio for Hot Springs at 8 o'clock last night. In order to prevent interference by state officials he will doubtless be arrested by Garland county officers on crossing the state line.

Seven Killed in a Building Collapse.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—An explosion caused by escaping gas wrecked a three story tenement house, reducing it to atoms, on New Church Court, Strand, last evening. A loud report was heard, and then the house collapsed as if made of cards. In the wreck six occupants of the house are buried. Two men were buried beneath the upper story of an adjoining house, which suddenly collapsed. One was resuscitated, but the other still remains buried in the ruins. Six other persons were taken to the hospital, all of them having been terribly wounded.

Martin Irons' Libel Suit.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 30.—The case of Martin Irons, once prominent in the great strike on the Gould railroad system, against the St. Louis Republic for libel, has been transferred to the United States circuit court at Waco, Tex., on application of the defendant. Irons claims $30,000 damages because the newspaper published that he had been beaten and his skull cracked by a woman whose little girl it was said he had attempted to assault.

Dr. Scott was then permitted to tell his story, which concerned his having been called in to examine Pitezel's body after its disarray. He explained the situation of the room and the arrangement of the windows so that the sun's rays should fall upon the corpse and hasten decomposition. The doctor dwelt up on the discovery of chloroform in the stomach, and said that large quantities of the drug had been used, and from the engorged condition of the lungs and the engorged heart it was apparent that the man had met a sudden and violent death from chloroform poisoning.

At 1:30 an adjournment was taken until 2:30 when Dr. William K. Matten, coroner's physician, was called. Holmes immediately arose and begged the court to grant him a continuance until today, on the grounds that Dr. Matten would prove a most important witness, and he felt unequal to the strain at present. This was denied.

Dr. Matten said he made the first post mortem examination at the morgue on Sept. 14 and the conditions were as discovered by the coroner's physician. He spoke of the scenes at the post office, where in the presence of the insurance company's officers and Pitezel's daughter the prisoner took a knife and cut off portions of the corpse.

In cross-examining the witness Holmes asked him to read his notes of the result of the autopsy in their entirety. This the witness did. It was then submitted to a long series of technical questions touching the probable cause of death, the effects of chloroform etc. Dr. Matten declared that death was due to chloroform poisoning. The cross examination continued for nearly two hours and a half.

Dr. Henry Loftman, well known as an analytical chemist, was next called on to testify. In reply to a question from the district attorney he declared it was impossible for a man to fix himself in an attitude as repulsive as that in which Pitezel lay, round after having administered chloroform to himself.

Holmes asked Dr. Loftman only a few questions, but reserved the right to call him as a witness for the defense.

The next witness, Coroner Samuel H. Ashbridge produced two affidavits sworn to by Alice Pitezel and Holmes identifying the body of the girl's father.

The court then adjourned for recess until 7 p.m., when Holmes called on Holmes to have the next session be held because of his weak condition.

"Well," replied Judge Arnold, "we will hold a session tonight."

The session of the evening session was caused by Holmes immediately after court recessed. He arose and in a wavering tone said:

"If your honor please, I have a request to make. In consequence of the severe physical strain to which I have been subjected, and also because of the criticism leveled against my former counsel, Messrs. Shoemaker and Rotan, I have within the past half hour sent for them and asked them to again assume charge of my defense. I should like the court to permit this."

The two lawyers were then requested to step into the court room. Holmes was moved back to his former position, and his counsel took seats.

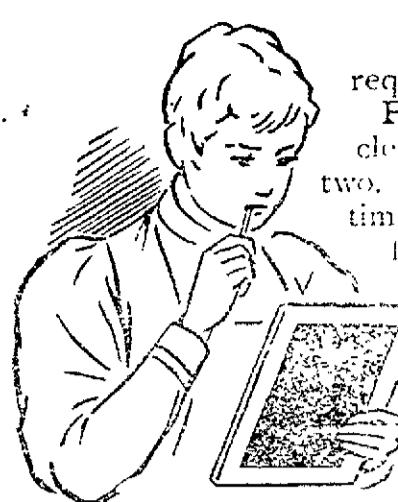

At the evening session William Robbins, a bartender, and Frederick Richards, saloon keeper, testified as to Pitezel's drinking habits.

G. Hartow Lampon swore that he had seen Pitezel at the Callohill street house on Aug. 24, 1894, when he stopped there to see about some patent business. Mr. Shoemaker sharply cross examined Lampon on the question of his belief that the man whom he there saw was his whose picture is in evidence as that of Pitezel. Mr. Lampon was sure they were the same.

"If your honor please, I have a request to make. In consequence of the severe physical strain to which I have been subjected, and also because of the criticism leveled against my former counsel, Messrs. Shoemaker and Rotan, I have within the past half hour sent for them and asked them to again assume charge of my defense. I should like the court to permit this."

"I will grant it," said Judge Arnold, "but you will not be able to do so until after the recess is over."

"Well," replied Holmes, "we will hold a session tonight."

McMAHON HALL OPEN.

IMPORTANT DEDICATION AT WASHINGTON CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY.

The Institution May Now Be Said to Be Thoroughly Established—Points About the New Building—History of the School. Bishop Keane, Rector.

McMahon hall, the chief building of the great Catholic university at Washington, may now be said to be fairly open to students. Its dedication virtually began on Sept. 24, when the professors and students of Divinity hall went into a spiritual retreat preceding the beginning of the largest eucharistic congress ever held in the United States.

Among those present were Cardinal Gibbons, Mgr. Satullo, Dr. Rooker, secretary of the papal legation; Archbishop Corrigan of New York, Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia, Archbishop Williams of Boston, Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul and scores of lesser ecclesiastical lights. The grounds of the university lie directly to the north of the Capital City and comprise 70 acres of high, rolling land. The buildings, according to the plan now accepted, will face a central campus which in form somewhat resembles a heart, whose apex is at the entrance of the grounds and whose base is occupied by McMahon hall. This building is 250 feet in length and varies in depth from 50 to 150 feet, being greatest in the central portion. In architectural style the structure is Romanesque. The ground floor is occupied by large apartments for official purposes and "seminaria," or laboratories, and lecture rooms. Above the first floor the central portion of the building contains spacious halls for reunions, public lectures, the conferring of degrees and other functions concerning the university at large. Later on an amphitheatre will be erected to the rear of the present building for the holding of these gatherings. The remainder of the present building is occupied by the school of jurisprudence and social science, the philosophical section, the school of philosophy and the psychological institute.

The faculty has been selected with discrimination, the head being the Rev.

Dr. Pace, who will hold the chair of psychology and be the dean. Dr. Pace is only 33 years old, but his scholarly achievements have been many and distinguished. Prof. William C. Robinson, son for years connected with the law department of Yale, will be dean of the school of social sciences and occupy the chair of law. Dr. Griffin, formerly of Johns Hopkins, and Dr. Cameron, formerly of Cornell university, will be professors of chemistry. Charles Warren Stoddard will lecture on English literature, and the other members of the faculty give all men either of assured reputation or great promise. McMahon hall was presented to the university by the Rev. James H. McMahon, reputed to be the richest priest in America, at an expenditure of about $1,000,000.

It was in 1856 that the project for a Catholic university at Washington was first mooted, but it was many years after that before the university was founded. When the third plenary council was held in Baltimore in 1854, Miss Mary Gwendoline Caldwell contributed the sum of $500,000 for the purpose of founding the university. Of this sum $200,000 was used for the purchase of the site and the erection of the first building of the institution, now known as Divinity hall, which was formally dedicated on Nov. 12, 1859. Since then the endowment has increased until it is now upward of $1,000,000, and an endowment for McMahon hall of $600,000 has been raised by subscription. A chapel, eventually to be used exclusively by the faculty and students of the divinity school, has been erected by Miss Caldwell at a cost of $50,000, and a larger one, for the use of all attending the university, will be erected at some future time.

The rector of the university is the Right Rev. J. J. Keane, titular bishop of Ajasso, who was born at Ballyshannon, County Donegal, Ireland, in 1839. He came to this country with his parents when but 7 years of age, and received his education in Baltimore at St. Charles' college and St. Mary's seminary. He was ordained a priest in 1866 and appointed assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church, Washington. When the see of Richmond became vacant he was appointed bishop, and for 11 years was head of the diocese. There were but 22 Catholic churches in his jurisdiction at the beginning of his term. When he quitted the see, there were 39 churches, 29 chapels, 2 convents, 5 academies, with 430 students, 32 parochial schools, 2,000 pupils, and 15,000 communicants. He was one of the leading members of the third plenary council, and was so much impressed by the scheme of the Catholic university that he offered to resign his post as bishop of Richmond to become rector of the university. This offer was accepted, and his service as rector began in August, 1888. Since then he has been the foremost figure in the conduct of the institution.

Some time ago, in company with a friend, I was searching for fossils among the debris of an abandoned limestone quarry. The owner, hearing us chipping and pounding among the rocks, approached us and inquired what we were looking for. On being answered "fossils," he said: "Fossils? What's that?" I told him—to catch fish with? I do not remember what answer he received, but it is more than probable that some of the fossils would have made excellent bait—say some of the smaller trilobites could they only have been used in time, but, unfortunately, we were a few thousand decades late.

Another time, while wandering over the rugged Devonian slopes of the Heidelberg mountains, we came across a native who gravely informed us that the curious, crooked fossil shells (zaphrentis) there abounding were petrified heifers' horns.—Archaeologist.

A FILTER INSIDE YOU.

HOW YOUR BLOOD IS KEPT PURE

Health Comes From Pure Blood—Pure Blood Depends on Your Filter Inside You.

Your Kidneys Keep Your Blood Pure If They Are Well. A Few Facts About Them, and How to Make Them Well When They Are Sick.

Your blood is what nourishes your body.

New blood is made every minute. It goes to the lungs, gets fresh air, and then passes through the body. In passing, it deposits new flesh, fat bones, etc., and takes up worn out matter.

This worn out matter goes to the kidneys. The kidneys filter it out of the blood and throw it out of the body.

That is, when they are well, they do.

When your kidneys are well, they act as perfect filters, to keep your blood pure. When they are sick, they act imperfectly. They leave the bad matter in. Sometimes they take out the good.

There is nothing more poisonous than bad blood.

A proof of this is rheumatism. It is simply a blood-poisoning caused by the bad matter left in the blood by sick kidneys.

Bright's disease is the kidneys working the other way—taking the good food out of the blood.

Both kinds of kidney sickness are dangerous.

Both can be cured by Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

One of the most wonderful facts of our body is this natural filter inside us. Our kidneys are very important organs. We don't take enough care of them. We are sick oftener than there is need for. It is simply because we take no heed to our kidneys.

Sick kidneys show their effects in many different diseases.

Rheumatism and Bright's disease are very common. Atrophy, Neuralgia, Pain in the Back, Dizziness, Bladder Troubles, Gravel, Diabetes, Sleeplessness, Nervousness.

These are only a few symptoms, or so-called "diseases." Back of them all are the sick kidneys.

Once the filters can be made to work, all these symptoms will disappear.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are made principally from the roots of asparagus plant, which has a special curative action on the kidneys. It gives them new life and strength. It helps them to do their work as it ought to be done. It cures their sickness. It cleans and renews the filter.

When the kidneys are well you will feel a great difference at once. Your complexion will clear, and your whole body will get renewed life and freshness.

This is the effect of Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills on the sick kidneys of the re-vitalized kidneys on the impure blood.

With a course of Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills you will get new life. They will cure you when other medicines, which do not reach the real seat of disease, cannot help you.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are for sale by all druggists, price, 50c. per box, or will be sent prepaid to any address on receipt of price.

An interesting booklet, explaining about the kidneys and their power for good and evil, sent free on request. Address Hobb's Medicine Co., Chicago, or San Francisco.

For more than a hundred years the Shakers have been studying the remedial properties of plants. They have made many discoveries, but their greatest achievement was made last year. It is a cordial that contains already digested food and is a digestor of food. It is effective in removing distress after eating, and creates an appetite for more food so that eating becomes a pleasure. Pale, thin people become plump and healthy under its use. It arrests the wasting of consumption.

There never has been such a step forward in the cure of indigestion as this Shaker Cordial. Your druggist will be glad to give you a little book descriptive of the product.

Give the babies LAXOL, which is Castor Oil made as palatable as Honey.

Say, why don't you try DeWitt's Little Early Risers? These little pills cure headache, indigestion and constipation. They're small, but do the work.

The last legislature, strongly Republican in both branches, and entirely dominated by Platt, left a legacy of increased taxation, of which the subjoined is the official record. There was nothing to justify such an enormous increase. It was an ordinary session, without any unusual calls upon the treasury. Where did the money go? Ask Platt and his besmirched senate and indicted assembly. Ask the hungry hordes who had to be provided with fat places, even if appropriations had to be increased. Ask Republican heads of state departments, who were supplied with funds to an extent never known before in the capitol at Albany. Ask the investigating and jangling legislative committees who squandered money like water. It all comes out of the pockets of the unfortunate taxpayer:

3.24!

Democratic government means low taxes
Republican government means high taxes
WHICH WILL YOU CHOOSE?

Remember, This is the Skirmish Line of the Presidential Campaign.

Next year the Democratic party will appeal to the nation at large for the prize of the presidency. In the great national contest then to be inaugurated the party must be armed with resolution, confidence and popular prestige if it expects to win.

Should this state go Democratic this fall the party will enter the presidential field full of hopes and enthusiasm.

Should Platt again get New York in his power by the success of the Republican state and legislative tickets, the Democratic party throughout the entire country will be discouraged, chilled and unmanned.

All eyes are directed toward this state. As it votes this fall will largely determine the presidential contest. Ex-Governor Flower called attention to this important fact in his Brooklyn speech this week:

"This is the year prior to the great presidential contest of 1896. Democratic defeat in New York state this year will discourage Democrats here and in other states, while success will greatly increase the chances of success in next year's contest. Democrats who united cordially and enthusiastically for the election of Grover Cleveland and the Democratic congress in 1892 have a duty to perform now not less than that which united them three years ago. You remember in that campaign we stood together for honest money and tariff reform. We advocated and urged the repeal of the Sherman silver law and the McKinley tariff law. We repealed the Sherman law, we repealed the McKinley law, and today we are observing all over the country many signs of returning prosperity."

The success of the Star ticket this year means another Democratic administration at Washington.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

The great interest manifested by Democrats in every part of the state in the success of the party this fall is a significant proof of the renewal of confidence and a conviction that a glorious victory will crown the Star ticket on election day.

* * *

The expenses of the state government at Albany have been immeasurably increased under Republican management. A gentleman who dropped into headquarters today tells of an amusing experience he had at the capitol, Albany, last winter while the precious legislature was in session. He had heard of the multiplication of capitol employees, but his experience exceeded his expectations. When he reached the senate elevator, he stretched out his hand to ring the bell, whereupon a new orderly stepped forward and said, "Please, sir, let me ring that bell."

"Why?"

"Because, sir, it is the only thing I have to do, and if I don't attend to it I may lose my job."

TERRIBLE CRIME OF INDIANS.

Their Brutal Treatment of a Little Twelve-Year-Old Girl.

SPokane, Wash., Oct. 30.—Chief Deputy United States Marshal Vinson returned here from the Okanagan reservation bringing news of a most horrible crime perpetrated by two Indians named Chukwaskie and Peckelhetey. They stole a little 12-year-old girl, Mary, daughter of James Poil, and taking her out in the mountains repeatedly assaulted her, then tied her upon a Cayuse and turned her adrift on the wild country to the north.

For nearly two days the cayuse wandered aimlessly about the wilderness with the senseless girl firmly strapped on its back. Thus she was found on Monday by a party of searchers out looking for her. The child was restored to consciousness with great difficulty, when she related the story of her terrible sufferings. The country is being scourged for the Indians, and if caught a terrible revenge is in store for them.

Patriotism and Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Commissioner William L. Lochren, of the pension office, in his annual report, under the head "Patriotism and Pensions," says: "Those men who enlisted early and fought the battles of the war were not moved by mercenary considerations, and unless actually disabled did not show the haste in applying for pensions manifested by those who enlisted near the close of the war for large bounties, and did little actual service, and who are now the noisiest in clamoring for more pensions. As compared with this latter class the real soldiers of the war have been modest in preferring claims for pensions." The report shows that the number of pensioners June 30, 1894, was 969,514; new pensioners added during the year, 39,185; dropped pensioners restored, 4,204; deaths during the year, 29,316; dropped for other causes, 14,575.

An Aeronaut's Fearful Fall.

HANCOCK, Md., Oct. 30.—E. E. Craig, an aeronaut of Sturgis, Mich., is believed to be fatally injured as a result of a fall he received here. He ascended to a height of 800 feet, performing daring feats on the trapeze. When he cut loose from his balloon the parachute failed to open, and for 200 feet the aeronaut came down with great velocity. Before the speed of his descent could be sufficiently reduced Craig's body struck the roof of a building with great force. He is supposed to be internally hurt, and is unconscious.

Mr. Van Alen Furnishes Hall.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 30.—Sheriff Anthony of Newport county, announced yesterday that Deputy P. S. Kael had served the writ sworn out against James J. Van Alen by Colonel Samuel R. Colt for the alleged alienation of the affections of the wife of Colonel Colt, and that satisfactory bail had been furnished. Mr. Van Alen returned from New York Monday night, and Deputy Kael quietly served the writ. Mr. Van Alen at once furnished bonds for $2,000.

JAPAN'S EVACUATION OF KOREA.

BERKLY, Oct. 30.—A dispatch received from Seoul says that the Japanese officials have announced their intention of evacuating Korea at the same time as the evacuation of the Liu-Tung peninsula takes place. The dispatch also says that the disbanding of the Korean troops trained by the Japanese, as demanded by the Russian and French governments, is regarded with anxiety in Japan's official circles.

AN INDIAN CHARGED WITH MURDER.

ATLANTA, Oct. 31.—Mohawk, one of the Indian braves in Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, was arrested here yesterday by Officer Hussey, of Baltimore, on a charge of manslaughter. It seems that while the show was in that city someone threw a rock at a small white boy, striking him in the side. The boy received injuries from which he afterwards died. It is said that Mohawk is the murderer.

STEAMER COMMODORE RELEASED.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 30.—The steamer Commodore and cargo, seized some days ago with arms aboard, alleged to be for the use of Cuban insurgents, has been released by order of Judge Seymour, who is now holding a session of the United States district court at New Bern, N. C. Captain Dillon, of the Commodore, says that he will sail for Cartagena as soon as some repairs are completed.

CHILDREN PLAYING WITH FIRE.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 30.—Clara Kishbaugh, aged 8 years, was fatally burned yesterday by her clothes catching fire. Her mother had gone on an errand, leaving Clara in charge of the three smaller children. They began to play with the fire when the accident occurred. With the clothing about Clara ran into the street, but before the flames were extinguished she was past human aid.

DEAFNESS CAN NOT BE CURED.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarah Cure. Send for circulars, free.

is a disease hard to cure, as is the morphine habit. Every organ of the body is affected. A continual demand for a stimulant is called for. Ex-Gov. Campbell, who is making the liveliest kind of a canvass in Ohio, declared, yesterday, that he was about to make exposures that would compete the Republicans to withdraw two of their candidates on the State ticket.

New York city has for two months been drawing on the water stored in its reservoirs, for during that time there have been practically no additions to the supply. The water on hand is only enough for thirty days use, and the engineers of the Aqueduct Commission are very uneasy at the outlook.

The new ballot will deprive voters of the ghoulish satisfaction many of them have taken in scratching, blackening and defacing the name of objectionable candidates. Hereafter, the voter who scratches an objectionable name from his ballot disfashions himself. The proper thing for Democrats to do is to vote the straight ticket by putting an X in the circle under the star.

The 3.24 tax rate, made necessary by the recklessness and extravagance of the last Republican Legislature, adds largely to the taxes of every property owner. Here are some sample figures:

| | State Tax | Local Tax | Total Tax |
|-------------------------|-----------|-----------|-----------|
| E. A. Brown & Son, Inc. | 23 13 | 32 50 | 55 63 |
| Edward S. Jr. | 16 72 | 22 42 | 39 14 |
| William Miller, Jr. | 15 12 | 26 81 | 41 93 |
| J. C. King | 21 21 | 30 01 | 51 22 |
| D. C. Buschmeyer | 23 43 | 28 25 | 51 68 |

THE REVOLT AGAINST THE BOSSSES

From the Carson Independent.
The people are very jealous of their right to govern themselves. They prefer to elect delegates to the several conventions from their ranks and to assemble in convention peaceably and quietly and make such nominations as their judgment dictates. But for several years the spectacle has been presented of the Republican convention assembling and simply ratifying the dictation of the Bosses from Ben Odell down, who have selected candidates months in advance of the conventions or primaries. No wonder the ghost arises at this time, no wonder that self-respecting Republican voters have resolved to remain away from the polls or turn out and vote the Democratic ticket as a rebuke to the political manipulators who make politics a profession and who fatten from year to year, holding all the offices among themselves. We find Odell, Sr., at present Mayor of Newburgh city and, for the fifth time, a candidate for the office; we find B. B. Odell, Jr., a Representative in Congress, and, through the favoritism of Gold Lice Gen. McAlpin, we find H. B. Odell holding the contract for feeding the State militia at the State camp, at hotel rates. Where do the rank and file come in?

SALE OF MEADOWBROOK FARM.

A NEW YORK MAN BUYS John Mitchell's Farm and the Famous Holstein-Friesian Herd.

From the Newburgh Register.

The John Mitchell farm, at Meadowbrook, has been sold within a few days to John D. Gilmore, of New York, President of the New York Biscuit Company, who will conduct the farm on quite an extensive scale, his purchase including Ethelka and old Iroquois' get of Holstein-Friesian cows. The price paid is said to be in the neighborhood of $20,000, which is a pretty good price for a farm of 200 acres, as compared with the Piereson sale, near this city, last week. The property was sold by L. A. VanCleef, of this city, who found it an easy place to dispose of. The Mitchell farm was for a century in the hands of the Sands family, but a score of years ago John Mitchell bought it for $20,000, spent as much more on it, made the house a veritable suburban mansion, brought the place into prominence through Ethelka and Jamaica, the famous milk yielders, and then died. The place has since run down considerably, and if Mr. VanCleef had not found a purchaser for it, Mrs. Mitchell would have leased it next month for a term of years.

LIVE LOCAL TOPICS.

All Hallowe'en, to-morrow night.

"Wang," at the Casino, next Monday evening.

Mr. Abner Mills is giving his house, No. 31 Highland avenue, a fresh coat of paint.

It is said that hundreds are coming by trolley and carriage, for miles around, to hear Will Carleton, on the evening of Nov. 8th. A large trolley party is talked of in Goshen.

"Carleton night" trolley parties are a frequent occurrence in the cities where Will Carleton appears. People come from miles around to hear him. They used to do that before trolleys were invented.

"Wang," under the management of W. D. True, will be the attraction at the Casino next Monday evening.

Be sure and read the notice under "He Is Coming." It is interesting because it appeals to our interests. Delays in getting seats are dangerous, when Will Carleton is the attraction.

Mr. Charles Piatt, who recently sold his residence on Highland avenue, has broken ground for a fine house at the corner of Watkins avenue and Jay street.

The girls of the Norwich High School propose to try their hands at editing and publishing a paper, and announce that the Christmas edition of the school paper will be their handiwork.

Maggie Kierner, a Paterson domestic, was so badly burned by the explosion of an oil stove on which she was preparing breakfast yesterday morning, that she died a few hours later.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Frank Cullinan returned from their bridal tour, last evening.

Miss Ella Dewey went to Monticello, to-day, for a two weeks' visit to friends.

Mr. Eugene Harding has resigned his position as bookkeeper of the Wallkill hat works and accepted a position with T. H. Skidmore Jr. & Co.

Rev. Father McElroy and Rev. Father O'Hanlon, of St. Joseph's Church, assisted Rev. Father Salley, of St. Mary's Church, Port Jervis, during the forty hours' devotion.

Mr. William H. Rogers reached home, last evening, from a business trip to Ossining. He returned by way of Fort Edward, where he spent a day with his daughter, Miss Bessie, who is attending school there.

Mr. W. M. Combs will visit Deckertown's Masonic Lodge, this evening, to see the work exemplified by the District Deputy Grand Master of the State of New Jersey.

Mr. John W. Jackson, of late employed as flutist in the Wallkill Hat Works, has accepted a position with the Thomas King milk can factory, in Newburgh, and will leave here today, to enter on his new duties.

Persons attending the W. C. T. U. ice cream and oyster sociable, Friday evening, at Mrs. George M. Hill's, Gardner avenue (Oakland Place), will take the Midway Park and Goshen car. All are invited.

Mr. R. F. Window, General Passenger Agent of the Old Dominion Line of steamers, made a pleasant call at the Argus office, yesterday. Manager Corey, of the Casino, has been appointed local ticket agent for the company in this city.

Mr. Nicholas Pfau, of Port Jervis, Democratic candidate for Coroner, was in town, to-day. Mr. Pfau is making an active canvass and is much encouraged by reports received from his friends throughout the county. If Mr. Pfau gets the full Democratic vote he will be elected, for there are many Republicans who have announced their intention of supporting him at the polls.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Kellogg are visiting friends in Newburgh.

Mr. Wynn Osterhout, of New York, was in town, last night, to attend the wedding of his brother, I. D. Osterhout.

HYMENEAL.

Osterhout—Read.

There was a quiet wedding at the residence of Mrs. E. Katie Read, on Wickham avenue, at 8 o'clock last evening, when that lady was united in marriage to Mr. L. D. Osterhout, the undertaker.

Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Battie, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church.

Miss Annie Sease, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Mr. John P. Force, of Monticello, was the best man. Master Roscoe Read, the little son of the bride, acted as page, and carried the ring upon a silver tray.

As the bridal party entered the parlors, Miss Myrtle Osterhout, sister of the groom, played a wedding march.

After the ceremony and the congratulations, a wedding supper was served.

It was the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Osterhout to start, last night, on a wedding tour to Scranton and other points in Pennsylvania, but the groom's business engagements prevented. They will start on this trip Thursday evening.

The Argus joins in the congratulations and good wishes of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Osterhout.

Jones—Fowler.

One of the most important matrimonial events that have occurred in Port Jervis in a long time took place at the Reformed Church in that village, at 7 o'clock, last evening, when Dr. Lysander Mann Jones and Miss Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Fowler, were united in marriage by Rev. Ame Vennema, pastor of the church.

The church was elaborately decorated for the occasion. Seats were reserved for those holding invitations to the reception, which followed the wedding, and all the other seats and even standing room in the church were quickly filled with friends of the young couple.

The bridal party entered the church from the chapel in the following order: Quartette, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Mapes, formerly of this city, and Miss Carrie Van Wormer and Mr. C. Van Norris, of Port Jervis, singing a wedding chorus; Florence Salmon, the flower girl, bearing a tray of rings; the ushers, Messrs. John Farman, Wm. Bevan, John Naughton and Dr. Harry Barnum, of Port Jervis, and Samuel Conkling and Dr. Arthur Dupont, of New York city; the bridesmaids, Misses Nellie Farman, Grace, Geraghty, Anna Cokendall, Ida Hornbeck, of Port Jervis, Miss Mary Margarim, of Deckertown, and Miss Josephine Durland, of Honesdale.

The bride leaned upon the arm of her father and was a vision of maiden loveliness in her wedding gown of white satin with its long court train and bridal veil, caught up to the hair with orange blossoms. She carried a large bouquet of chrysanthemums. The six bridesmaids were arrayed in costumes consisting of white mohair skirts and white embroidered bodices trimmed with green ribbon.

At the head of the aisle the quartette and ushers separated, forming open ranks through which passed the bride and her attendants, ascending the platform where the groom, his best man, Mr. Charles Fowler, a brother of the bride, and the officiating clergyman, Rev. Ame Vennema, robed in a long black gown, had preceded them.

The bride, as well as the groom, gave a pledge of the faithful fulfillment of her marriage vows by placing a ring on the finger of her husband.

The bride is well known in this city where she has many warm friends, who with the Argus join in the good wishes for her future happiness.

THE LIVINGSTON MANOR MYSTERY.

A New Phase Developed To-day—Mrs. Ward and Riley Carl Reported to Have Been Seen Together—Officers in Pursuit.

There is a new phase to the Livingston Manor mystery which if the reports in circulation are correct will explode the murder theory. The following dispatch from an Argus representative at the Manor was received this afternoon:

LIVINGSTON MANOR, Oct. 30.—Officers from here are in pursuit of Mrs. Ward and Riley Carl, who are reported to have been seen near Hancock Junction.

TROUBLE BEHIND THE SCENES.

Angered at a Demand for Money Actor Ferguson of the Ellinwood Company

Assaults His Wife and Her Daughter.

"Baby Blossom"—Pulled Off by Stage Hand.—The Company Not to Be Allowed to Again Appear at the Casino.

Between the third and fourth acts of "The Opera Singer," at the Casino, last night, those of the audience who occupied the front rows of the orchestra were startled by cries of "Murder! Help! Murder!" For a moment it was thought that this was a part of the performance, but as time passed and the curtain failed to rise, the audience was at a loss to understand the reason for the unusual outcry.

The story as told by the stage hands is as follows:

The lady who assumed the character of the "Opera Singer," and who is known on the bills as Miss Bessie Morton, is the mother of "Baby Blossom," the clever little child who figures so conspicuously in the performances given by the Ellinwood Players. After the death of "Baby's" father, Miss Morton married Mr. W. J. Ferguson, the heavy man of the company, and one of the proprietors of the show.

A quarrel between husband and wife over money matters arose, last night, and the mother refused to allow her child to appear in the fourth act until she received a certain sum of money due her. This angered the man to such an extent that he grabbed his wife by the throat and choked her until one of the stage hands reached him and forced him to quit. It is also said the fellow struck the child in the face, when the little one yelled for help to save her mother from his violence.

It was the cry of the mother and child which startled the audience, and the interference of the attaches of the theatre so enraged Ferguson that he threatened to "lick" the whole force of stage hands put together, but somehow failed to keep his promise. He also threatened to do all sorts of things to his wife "when he got her to the hotel," but a close watch was kept upon him and he was not allowed to go near her room.

Mr. Ellinwood prevailed upon the mother to allow "Baby Blossom" to sing in the fourth act, and the little one went through her portion of the performance as though nothing had occurred.

ELLINWOOD ENGAGEMENT CANCELLED.

Manager Corey, this afternoon, sent the following letter to Mr. Ellinwood, notifying him that the Casino would not be opened for his company, to-night:

MIDDLETOWN, Oct. 30, 1895.
Mr. Ellinwood,

DEAR SIR:—After a careful consideration of the matter and a close inquiry into the facts relative to the assault made by one Ferguson, a member of your troupe, on a woman and a child of the company, at the Casino, last night, I cannot consent to the further appearance of your company at this house. The beating administered by him seems to me so brutal and cowardly as to call for the condemnation of all fair-minded men, and I cannot permit the appearance of any person guilty of such conduct in any place of amusement under my control. When the house was rented to Mr. Lea, it was with the distinct understanding that it should be conducted under the rules and regulations which have heretofore governed. While I am satisfied that Mr. Lea did everything in his power to carry out the agreement, certain members of your company, inspired by outside influence, have done everything possible to make the engagement unpleasing. Such conduct as that of last night will not be permitted at the Casino under any circumstances. I therefore deem it wise to close the house for the balance of the week, and it will not be opened until the production of "Wang," on Monday evening next, under my own management. Yours very truly,
HORACE W. COREY.

PUBLIC VOICE.

A Card from Mr. Ellinwood—Actor Ferguson Discharged for "Gassing" Last Night's Play.

EDITORS ARGUS: Would you kindly state in your most valuable columns that the remark interjected by Mr. John W. Ferguson in last night's play, "I am dead, so is Mr. Corey," caused Mr. Ferguson's instant dismissal from my company, and that he is no longer connected with it. Also that the box occupied by the reporters from the Times was paid for at the reserved seat sale and came in as paid tickets. Whether they were paid for by the reporters or not I am unable to say.

In regard to the ill feeling, Mr. Ferguson has caused it all, but as he has acted so ungentlemanly about it I must say he has entirely deceived me, and as he is discharged I hope there it will end. I have a contract with "Baby Blossom" for forty weeks and she will remain with the company.

Very Respectfully,

THOS. ELLINWOOD.

THE SOUTH EXULTS.

PROUD OF THE MATERIAL PROSPERI-TY SHOWN AT ATLANTA.

The Exposition Teems With Evidences of Southern Enterprise and Progress—Georgia Is Especially in Evidence—How the Finished Fair Looks.

The Cotton States and International Exposition is in fairly good shape at last and can be reviewed as a whole, criticised in details and contrasted with Chicago's marvelous exhibit. Many of the delays were hurtful to the exposition, as a whole, and some of them were quite inexplicable, proving that, despite Atlanta's get up and push, she is still not entirely freed from the old southern habit of putting things off till the fifty-ninth minute of the eleventh hour.
First of all, it is to be noted that the heat cut off anything ever known here in September. Veterans of Chickamauga tell me they were not half so hot in the battle as during the exhausting ceremonies of the dedication. Scores of people were prostrated there, and a few here, and it is reported that there have been a few deaths. The oddest fact in this line is that the Dahomeyans com-

MAIN ENTRANCE AND ADMINISTRATION BUILDING.

plained bitterly of the climate the first week. The managers had some difficulty in compelling the men to wear enough clothing for public appearance, and lady visitors who peered into the straw hats for a study of African domestic life found one glance enough and retreated rosy red.

Just the same a negro—that is a miscegen—was the hero of opening day.
It is taken by common consent, but all things considered the speech of Professor Booker T. Washington was the neatest, and most appropriate of the day, and beyond that the mere fact that he was on the platform, that the eight negro commissioners were in the procession with the rest, and that the Negro building is one of those most sought for on the grounds are of telling significance.
Of equal interest is the fact that the ladies have managed their departments without a jar, and the wits will not have so much fun with them as at Chicago. And as to the rest we now realize the great gain in constructing the main buildings around the natural amphitheater and appreciate the merits of the plans of Mr. Gragg-Wilkins, chief of construction, and his assistants.

The main entrance is at Fourteenth street, middle of the west side of the park, where the Administration building fronts the outside space. It is said to be a combination of six or seven old castles and looks as if it might be all that and more. Inside an advance of a few rods between the Auditorium and the Georgia State building brings one to the trow of a considerable hill, from which he looks down into the great oval basin which adds so greatly to the beauty and general effectiveness of the plan. In the deepest part of this basin, on the east and south sides, is the so called Clara mere, two crystal lakes joined by a broad neck, over which there is a bridge. A third or more of the floor of the basin is taken up by the grand plaza, in the center of which is the fountain, and all the space left vacant by water and plants is dotted with state and foreign buildings and minor attractions.

In the mere is apparently a low conical island, but it is an illusion, a mere shell, and in the immense space under it is the electrical machinery which is to produce the marvelous colored fountains, more marvelous, the engineers say, than anything heretofore seen on this earth.

On the commanding points of the terrace around this central basin are the principal structures. Bodily conspicuous on the northeast is the largest Manufactures and Liberal Arts, 260 by 251 feet, with a floor area of 103,000 square feet. Straight north is the Government building, the first to be ready for visitors, and on the slope back of it is the camp of United States soldiers.
Northwest is the Fine Arts hall, at the best point of all for an impusing effect as seen from the plaza. And it is well, indeed, that it is so, for one cannot help contrasting its size with that of the marvelous palace of art at Chicago.
That was indeed impressive seen across the lagoon, but as one goes up to this one by the three long flights of steps an illusion of size is produced, and seen from the plaza it glows like a great white temple set on a hill. This arrangement was one of the happiest conceits of Wilkins & Co., on the east is the Electrical building, so placed as to throw a flood of light into the basin.
All the wonderful arrangements by which the effects are to exceed all heretofore known I have had explained to me three times, and therefore know enough about it to know I had better not try to describe it. On the extreme south is Machinery hall, flanked on one side by Mineralogical and Forestry and on the other by the California building, while on the southwest is Agriculture,
and the southeast Transportation,
and thus ends the list of large structures.

In all the corners and otherwise vacant spaces are state buildings and foreign buildings, a Mexican village and a "forty-niner mining camp," scenic displays and many minor attractions, and last, but far from least, there are the Midway heights, with their ostriches and oriental dancing girls, congress of beauties, German village, Cairo streets and a lot more too tedious to mention.

And through it all and over it all, so to speak, one sees a tendency to boast.
Perhaps it is not fair to contrast this

WOMEN'S FACES

—like Bowers, fade
and wither with time;
the bloom of the rose is only known to the healthy woman's cheeks.
The nervous strain caused by the ailments and pains peculiar to the female, and the labor and worry of rearing a family, can often be traced by the lines in the woman's face.
Dull eyes, the sallow or wrinkled face, and those "feelings of weakness" have their rise in the derangements and irregularities peculiar to women. The functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses of women, can be cured with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For the young girl just entering womanhood, for the mother who has chosen to become mothers, and later in "the change of life,"
the "Prescription" is just what they need;
it aids nature in preparing the system for the change. It's a medicine prescribed for thirty years, in the diseases of women, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure the chronic inflammation of the lining membranes which cause such exhausting drains upon the system.
It cures nervous prostration, sleeplessness, faintness, nervous debility and all disorders arising from derangement of the female organs and functions.

Mrs. J. P. Bell, Decatur, Ga., wife of the editor of The Graphic, the leading local paper of Fulton county writes:

"I was troubled with heart disease for six years, severe palpitations, shortness of breath, together with such extreme nervousness, that at times I would walk the floor nearly all night. We consulted the best medical talent.

They said there was no help for me, that I had organic disease of the heart for which there was no remedy. I had read your advertisement in The Graphic and a year ago, as a last resort, tried the bottle of Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart, which convinced me that there was true merit in it. I took three bottles each of the Heart Cure and Restorative Nerve and it completely cured me. I sleep well at night, my heart beats regularly and I have no more snoring spells. I wish to say to all who are suffering as I did, there's relief, until for them if they will only give your remedies just one trial."

Mr. Isaac Williams, of Mohawk Lane, Co.,
Oregon, writes:

"I was sick for over three years with blind dizzy spells, palpitation of the heart, pain in the back and head, and at times would have such a weak tired feeling when I first got up in the morning,
that I could hardly walk. Mrs. Williams, Miles' Favorite Prescription, began to get better; I could sleep
well nights, and that bad nervous feeling and the pain in my back soon left me. I can walk several miles without getting tired. I took in all three bottles of 'Prescription' and two of 'Discovery.'

Mr. Isaac Williams, of Mohawk Lane, Co.,
Oregon, writes:

"I was sick for over three years with blind dizzy spells, palpitation of the heart, pain in the back and head, and at times would have such a weak tired feeling when I first got up in the morning,
that I could hardly walk. Mrs. Williams,
Miles' Favorite Prescription, began to
get better; I could sleep
well nights, and that bad nervous feeling and
the pain in my back soon left me. I can walk several miles without getting tired. I took in all three bottles of 'Prescription' and two of 'Discovery.'

TOO SMART FOR VILLAGE OFFICIALS

The O. and W. Lays a Switch Across a Norwich Street, Early Sunday Morning.

The Ontario and Western stole a march on the officials of Norwich, Sunday morning. They desired to lay a switch on the belt of the abandoned Auburn branch to reach a lot used by E. A. Lally for the storage of lumber, and in order to do this had to cross Silver street.

There were intimations that the trustees of Norwich village might refuse permission to cross the street and the O. and W. officials, satisfied that since they had a right to operate a branch railroad across the street, they also had a right to lay and maintain a switch, decided not to go before the trustee, and, in order to avoid possible litigation, they also determined to lay the track at a time when injunctions were not obtainable.

The switch was laid up to the street, last week, and work was then suspended until daylight, Sunday morning, when a gang of fifty Italians was put at work and by the time the people of Norwich had ended their Sunday morning naps the switch had been extended across the street.

WENT SHY ON BRICKS.

Brick Laying on East Main Street Stopped.

Work on the East Main street paving job was brought to a standstill, this morning, owing to the non-arrival of brick. Mr. Orr went to Catskill, Monday, and received assurances that the brick would be shipped as rapidly as he required. Several carloads arrived Monday and yesterday, and were promptly laid to a point directly in front of the residence of Mayor Stansbury, when the pavers had to suspend operations.

Six car loads of brick were received before noon, and the work of laying them was resumed.

A TEST OF CAR AXLES.

A representative of the O. and W. to witness the Test of Axles for the New Coal Cars.

Chief Inspector of Engines Reynolds, of the O. and W., left this morning, for Pencoyd, Pa., to witness a test of car axles being manufactured there for the Michigan Peninsular Car Co., which has the contract for the O. and W.'s 500 new cars. The test is made by dropping a hundred thousand pound weight from a height of twenty feet upon the axles. Strange as it may seem, many axles, after notwithstanding this severe test, unaccountably break after having been in use a few months.

Newburgh's Driven Wells Not Yet Cured by the Drouth.

A Newburgh reporter has interviewed the owners of the three score and ten driven wells in and about that city and learned that these wells were not affected in the least by the drouth, which has dried up the city reservoir. Several of the manufacturing concerns in the city, and also the Electric Railway Company, get their water supply from driven wells. The wells range in depth from thirty to 150 feet.

Ontario and Western Officials on Their Way to Scranton.

President Fowler's private car, No. 30, went north over the O. and W., last evening, attached to train 5. The party on board consisted of President Fowler, Vice-President Kerr, General Manager Gould, Director Lowe, General Superintendent Canfield and Coal Sales Agent Dickson. Their destination was Scranton, where they intended to look after coal properties.

Recognized His Father's Name.

From the Hudson Gazette.

A Binghamton school teacher was trying to teach a class of boys multiplication, and in doing so used the usual multiplication sign "X" on the blackboard. She then asked if any of the boys knew what it was. One boy, a fair specimen of that city's young scions, convulsed the class by saying: "Please, teacher, that's my father's name. I've seen him write it many a time."

Population of the State Hospital.

According to the Conglomerate, there were, Tuesday, 1,125 patients in the State Hospital for the Insane, in this city, of which 550 were males and 566 females. During the week ten patients were admitted and four discharged.

The Family Doctor.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Oct. 12, 1885. I have used Hood's Saraparilla, and think it is a wonderful medicine. It is our family doctor, and we have used it for twelve years." Mrs. John Root, 229 East Main St.

Hood's Pills are especially prepared to be taken with Hood's Saraparilla.

ERIC BRAKEMAN INJURED

Eric Crashed While Coupling Cars— Fell Between the Cars

Herman Molusky, a brakeman on the Eastern Division of the Erie, caught his right forearm between couplers, Monday, and has a badly crushed arm and lacerated wound.

James McNamee, a brakeman on the Eastern Division, while going from a stone car to a car loaded with bark, while entering a siding at the bottom of Goshen, Tuesday, slipped and fell between the cars, receiving a severe contusion of the back. The fall was caused by the bark slipping from the log when stepped upon by Mr. McNamee. The train, fortunately, was moving slowly.

OBITUARY.

Andrew Patterson.

Mr. Andrew Patterson died, at 11:30 o'clock last night, at his residence, No. 29 East Avenue, aged sixty-five years. The immediate cause of death was Bright's disease, from which he had been a sufferer for some time past, having been confined to his bed for the past five weeks.

Deceased was born in Ireland, and came to this country forty years ago. His first wife died eight years ago, and four years ago he married Mrs. Jessie Keogh, who survives him. The funeral will be private.

DIPHTHERIA IN THE TOWN OF CRAWFORD.

No New Cases Recently—One Death at Searsville—A Scarletina scare at Pine Bush.

The epidemic of diphtheria in the town of Crawford, seems to have abated as there have been no new cases within the past week or more.

One of the three children of track foreman, Robert Henry, of Searsville, aged three years, died of the disease. The other two are improving and it is believed will recover.

In Pine Bush there is a new source of anxiety among the parents of children—a case of scarletina, and as a result the public school is practically abandoned although the teachings go through the form of instructing the half dozen pupils in attendance.

DILAPIDATION AND DECAY.

A Once Prosperous Agricultural District That Is Sadly Changed.

From Our Unionville Correspondent

Forty years ago, the road leading from the mountain to South Centerville, through the Mulock neighborhood, was bordered by green fields and fertile farms, on which were large and well kept farm houses and outbuildings, owned and occupied by a happy and contented yeomanry. But now the road is grass grown and rough, unworked, apparently for years, and the buildings are fast going to decay. We noticed three or four of the places which seemed to be entirely abandoned, the houses unoccupied and the outbuildings in a state of extreme dilapidation, and the cattle which formerly grazed on the hillsides and rich bottom lands, were not visible and no signs of life appeared, where the lowing of the herds and the cheerful songs of the milkmaid were formerly mingled with the whirr and rattle of the churning machine.

The words of Goldsmith were continually suggested to mind as we gazed upon the solitude:

"I fares the land, to hastening ill a pray, Where wealth accumulates, and men decay: Princes and lords may nourish or may fade; A breath can make them, as a breath has made, But a bold peasant, thicke-untry's pride, When once destroyed can never be supplied."

There is certainly something sadly out of joint in the nation's agriculture, and the matter suggests a problem well worthy the attention and study of our philosophers and statesmen.

OTISVILLE.

A Kind Hearted Man—Removed to Middletown—A Birthday Party—Beautiful Autumnal Foliage — Removals—Personal Notes.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

Mr. Bert Sayer went on Friday to Johnson. He has taken a number of fine pictures of places in that vicinity, one of them being the Rome school where his cousin, Miss Hattie Beyea is teacher.

It is seldom that one sees illustrated such kindness of heart as was brought to our notice on Friday. A well known business man of your city, hearing that a horse he had at one time owned had passed into the hands of a stranger at auction the day before, came and purchased it of the buyer that he might have the satisfaction of knowing how it was cared for in its old age.

Mr. John Comfort, of Middletown, was in town visiting his sister, Mrs. Palmer, on Thursday of last week.

Mr. Haite, who has occupied the Austin house near the cemetery, will move into the Stanley house in this village.

The changing foliage of the woods has been unusually fine this fall, making a charm about our country scenery that we never see at any other season of the year.

Miss Pearl Beyea has been spending several weeks at Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia.

Through the courtesy of Miss Grace Boyd, Miss Otto and the Misses Beyea attended church at Westbrookville, Sunday afternoon.

An occasional hard freeze and the steady advance in coal are very forcible reminders that winter will soon be upon us. Happy is the man that can say I am ready.

Mr. William Dodd removed his family to Middletown, last week, having secured employment there.

Several of our young people spent Friday evening of last week very pleasantly at the home of Mr. Nelson. The party was to commemorate the birthday of their son, William. All unite in wishing him many happy returns of the day.

—Mrs. Hoily, who has been quite ill, is said to be improving.

JEAN STUART BROWN.

Very Warmly Praised by the President of Sorosis.

Miss Jean Stuart Brown, who gives a reading at the Assembly Rooms, Friday evening, for the benefit of Thrall Hospital, gave a series of Lenten readings before Sorosis, the best known and most cultured literary society in New York, and Dr. Jennie de la M. Loyer, its distinguished President, wrote of Miss Brown:

"It gives me pleasure to commend the readings of Miss Jean Stuart Brown. Her style is intellectual and thoroughly satisfactory. Her technique is exquisite, her expression and voice are equally delightful. I never enjoyed readings more."

BULLVILLE.

Revival Services.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

Revival services will continue in the M. E. Church this week with the exception of Saturday evening.

A BABY

CONTRADICTS THE DOCTORS.

They Are Happy, Glad, and Well!

[SPECIAL TO THE LADY READERS.]

The theories of physicians in regard to female complaints suffer a "Waterloo" very frequently, when sensible and thinking women take matters into their own hands.

Women are sometimes compelled to act for themselves, because of the suffering forced upon them by incompetent doctors, who are baited by very simple complaints, because they are not the right sex to comprehend them.

Lydell E. Pinkham, when she gave to the world her Vegetable Compound, lifted women from the darkness into light. She placed within their reach a quantity, not only of health, but of delicacy and self-respect.

The following letter is a little story where a "dear little boy" was the "Waterloo."

"I have taken three boules of your Vegetable Compound, one package of Sanative Wash, one box of Liver Pills; and now I have a dear little babe four weeks old, and I am well. I have to thank you for this.

"I have spent $200.00 for Doctors' bills without a cure. For my cure I only spent $5.00.

"I was once a victim of female troubles in their worst form. I have suffered untold agonies every month; had to stay in bed, and have poultries applied, and then could not stand the pain.

"My physician told me if I became pregnant I would die. I had bladder trouble, itching, backache, catarrh of the stomach, hysteria, and heart trouble, fainting spells and leucorrhoea. Can you wonder that I sing the praises of a medicine that has cured me of all these ills?"
